Softens blow of $66 million grant denial by feds

Area gets $5 million housing grant

BELLE GLADE—As the Glades was getting over the disappointment of losing its bid for a federal grant, it learned that all is not lost.

Frowns turned to smiles as local leaders learned the county has marked $5-million for the Glades.

Disappointment came when an anticipated $66-million grant application got thumbs down from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The grant was intended primarily to improve housing in Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay.

The rejection was announced last Wednesday by County Commission Chairman Ken Adams at a budget hearing on the coast.

Commissioner Adams for some time has been telling anyone who would listen that the Glades is in dire need of assistance in the area of housing.

In announcing that the grant had been rejected, he noted this is not the end of his efforts to gain federal money for the Glades.

HUD noted that the proposal can be submitted again next year.

The commissioners voted to submit the proposal in early summer. The money was to go for the construction of new housing, sidewalks, water mains and sewer lines. It would have gone to the most badly blighted Glades neighborhoods.

Other money would have gone for the purchase of land for new housing, improving parks and recreation facilities and encouraging new business and industry to move into the area.

As local leaders were expressing disappointment at the loss of the federal money, brighter news came from the coast as county commissioners voted to set aside $5-million in proper-

South Bay. No injuries failure began.

Not wanting to ditch the plane in the lake for fear of flipping over, the pilot opted to glide toward US 27, and try to set the plane down on the roadway.

According to the deputies, as the pilot was attempting to land, the plane became trapped in the draft of a large dump truck and coupled with strong cross winds, the plane hit the ground harder than desired.

Upon impact the right wing wheel broke off causing the plane to leave the roadway and come to rest on the north shoulder of the four lane highway.

Both deputies said the pilot did a good job of bringing the plane in with conditions as they were.

The pilot and his three passengers were uninjured. A four acre from the Ft. Lauderdale area.

Correction

A photo caption printed in the Belle Glade Herald Observer March 7, regarding the Feb. 28 drowning death of Pahokee resident Maria Elizabeth Diniz in a vehicle accident, incorrectly stated that Ms. Diniz was three months pregnant.

The Belle Glade Herald has since confirmed that Ms. Diniz was not pregnant at the time of her death.

Dr. James Benz, district medical examiner in West Palm Beach, stated that Ms. Diniz was not pregnant.

The Belle Glade Herald regrets the error and apologizes to the family of Ms. Diniz for any inconvenience.

THE VISITING NURSE ASSOCIATION provides a unique service to the Glades. Patients who would otherwise be hospitalized or in nursing homes can stay in their own homes and receive professional treatment. Here VNA staff nurse Helen Owens applies a dressing to the leg of patient Gary Dudley. The VNA is celebrating its 10th anniversary in the Glades this year.

Visiting Nurses Association fills vital home health care need

BY GENE ANTONIO

BELLE GLADE—For the past 10 years a nonprofit, voluntary agency has quietly and with little notice gone about its work of filling a vital need in the home health care field in the Glades.

Each day of the week four registered nurses, one licensed practical nurse and four home health aides travel throughout the Glades bringing professional health services to people in their own homes.

The Palm Beach Regional Visiting Nurse Association got its start in 1945. From its beginning on the coast 40 years ago, the VNA has grown both in scope and size.

Today there are five offices serving Palm Beach County. The main office is in West Palm Beach and the others are in Jupiter, Boynton Beach, Boca Raton and Belle Glade.

The Belle Glade office is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year. The office opened at Glades General Hospital and in 1982 moved to its present location at the Lakeshore Civic Center.

What is the Visiting Nurse Association? Who benefits from its services? What does it cost?

VNA Director of Community Relations Catha Coleman comments that it is not uncommon for people to say, “I’ve never heard of the VNA.”

She has learned that its the nature of health care for most people not to think about it or worry about until the need arises.

But thousands of people in the Glades know who the visiting nurses are and they know of the unique work they do here.

The VNA offers skilled nursing care to people in their homes. They are not the same as private duty nurses in that VNA nurses visit patients only for specific reasons.

Supervisor of the Belle Glade office Elinor Peters notes that the VNA nurses “do anything a nurse in a hospital would do.”

Things haven't changed much

BY GENE ANTONIO

BELLE GLADE—Some things never change.

Does this headline look familiar? “Canal Hazards Safety Committee readies State Road 80 ground-breaking ceremonies.”

Local dignitaries excitedly polished up the town as the governor headed for Belle Glade for the ceremonies.

Everything was in ready. The place: the Belle Glade Library. The time: 10 a.m. A fish fry was planned to celebrate the long awaited day.

Frank Jones, chairman of the safety committee, stressed the hopes to widen SR 80 from Fort Myers to West Palm Beach.

Confidently, Jones predicted all improvements on SR 80 from Belle Glade to West Palm Beach “will be completed or under way by 1978.”

That was the big story in the Belle Glade Herald July 24, 1975.

Today, 10 years later, Frank Jones still has hopes to widen SR 80 despite those ground-breaking ceremonies.

Some things never change.

In the same issue Glades residents were speaking out on the housing situation.

One man said, “There’s definitely a housing problem. We need someone with a lot of money to invest who would build some apartments.”

Another resident said the present housing shortage is caused by inflation. He suggested the government do something “to get rid of the slums.”

A local realtor noted, “Housing is the most critical problem facing this area.”

He continued, “We have to do whatever it takes to provide minimal housing for people of the area.”

Today, 10 years later, Glades residents still face poor housing and promises to widen SR 80.

Some things never change.

it was suggested at the scene the wet highway may have been a contributing cause of the accident.

Man held in sexual battery

BELLE GLADE—Twenty seven year old Herbert Lee Canty was arrested Tuesday in connection with charges of aggravated assault and sexual battery on a child under 11, said Detective Clarence Backherms, Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff department reports said Canty took the nine year old youth into his trailer, where he allegedly threw her to the floor, smothered her with pillows and threatened to kill her. No bond has been set on the capital felony as of yet, said Backherms.

The detective also said Canty was no stranger to the girl, as he and her family were close friends.

Police make arson arrest

BELLE GLADE—City police concluded their investigation of the torching of the Chickett hut located at the Belle Glade Marina which burned two weeks ago.

Police say they received information which implicated Herndon in the incident. He was then given a polygraph examination. During the exam Herndon confessed to setting fire to the Chickett hut. He said he used a Bic lighter to start the blaze.

Herndon then gave a taped video statement confessing to the crime. The Chickett was built several years ago by Seminole Indians and was donated to the marina by the Black Gold Jubilee Committee. Its value is estimated to be in excess of $1,000.

Pro kickfighter charged with motor vehicle theft

BELLE GLADE—A 28 year old professional kickboxer from West Palm Beach was arrested on charges of motor vehicle theft Thursday, after he allegedly stole a 1964 Chevrolet pick up, belonging to a construction worker staying at Lion Country Safari, in West Palm Beach.

At this point in time police were unaware Newsome was wanted in West Palm Beach on a failure to appear warrant. Sheriff department reports state at 6:05 a.m., Bill Waldrop, owner of the pick up, was in his camper at the amusement park when he saw someone get in his truck, start it, and drive off.

The stolen pick up was found in the Hillsborough Canal, one mile east of the Florida Sugar Mill on SR 80, at 7:00 a.m. by Troopers from the Florida Highway Patrol.

The authorities were notified, and the truck was found in the canal by Trooper Floyd of the Florida Highway Patrol.

Landrum said Newsome apparently was picked up by two men, approximately three miles east of Belle Glade, and taken to Glades General Hospital for a cut on his shoulder, but he refused treatment.

Landrum said a value of $1,500 was placed on the vehicle by FHP. After Newsome was in the custody Belle Glade Police, a photo lineup was put together by Landrum, and the suspect was positively identified by Waldrop.

Creating suspicion among employees at the institution, Belle Glade Police were called. Upon their arrival, the man allegedly told police they would have to kill him to take him

Newsome is employed by the Steve Shepard Studios as a professional kickboxer.

Stolen property list released

BY GENE ANTONIO

BELLE GLADE—Thieves playing their trade in the homes and apartments and along the highways and byways of Belle Glade have stolen everything from clocks to cassette players and from bicycles to dump trucks.

The Belle Glade Police Department released the latest stolen property list and its a hodgepodge of merchandise.

Somebody somewhere is keeping cool with air conditioners. A 3,500 BTU Admiral was stolen July 15. Two Carrier air-conditioners did a disappearing act in Mid-June and a Sears Cold Spot left its owner in July.

Television sets and video tape recorders were popular items with thieves and burglars this summer.

Two Zenith VCRs were lifted June 22. A Zenith Recorder Top Loader was stolen the following month. An RCA VCR and timer as well as a General Electric Video Camera and a color TV were stolen in July.

A Curtis Mathis 25-inch Color TV Combo and a Curtis Mathis VCR were stolen in June. TV lovers also stole a Sunbelt Cable Box with HBO attachment.

Bicycles were on the list. A-bays BMX, a Western Flyer, a Schwinn Cruiser and two Eastern Flyers left without their owners.

Jewelry also was reported stolen in the report covering the period from June 18 through July 25.

A 14 KT gold butterfly ring with diamonds, a gold ring, turquoise stones, aquamarines, gold necklaces, gold hoop earrings, opals and diamond pendants and pearls were stolen.

Arms also were popular items. A Raven Arms 25 caliber automatic nickel plated pistol, a Jackson 12 gauge shotgun and a 30 caliber rifle got into the hands of thieves.

Stolen tools included a Sears circular saw, a heavy duty drill, a portable drill, a Black and Decker hand drill and a hand saw and Amp meter.

Other items included immigration papers, a social security card, a savings account book, a resident alien card, drivers licenses and credit cards.

A number of Florida license plates were stolen.

Other items include a wall clock, a clock radio, a vacuum cleaner, an electric typewriter, a telephone system, a tape recorder, a dictaphone tape recorder, a CB radio.

All of these goods might just fit in a 1974 White Road Boss dump truck.

The red and white truck was reported stolen July 14.

Man charged in auto burglary

BELLE GLADE—City police arrested a S.W. B Place man Saturday after spotting him carrying a car stereo in the Glades General Hospital parking lot.

According to city police, at about 11:30 p.m., Saturday Patrolman Ray Ruby went to the hospital on a complaint of an auto burglary.

When he arrived he found Curtis Jones, 38, of B Place trying to hide something from his view. The patrolman stopped Jones and found he was carrying a car stereo.

Patrolman Ruby took Jones to the south parking lot of the hospital and met with the security guard. He identified Jones as the person he saw inside a 1977 Monarch.

He told the stereo as the one so patrolman that when he had removed he tried to stop Jones from his dashboard. He ran. The owner of Jones was charged the car was contacted with auto burglary and he identified the petty theft.

Police officer battered, arrest follows

BELLE GLADE—A Belle Glade man was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail under $1,000 bond last week, charged with battery to a police officer, criminal mischief and disorderly conduct.

The incident took place last Wednesday when a city patrolman was dispatched to a 12th Street address to answer a disturbance call.

When he arrived Patrolman Steve Hinton was attacked by Eddie Benton, 28, of 656 S.W. Eighth Street.

According to a city police report, the investigating officer was met by Benton who told him his girlfriend was armed.

While the officer investigated, Benton started arguing with his girlfriend. He then struck the woman's daughter.

At that point Benton attempted to break up the fight. It was then that Benton hit him in the chest and then punched him and kicked him.

Benton also scratched and dented a police car causing over $200 damage.

Lottery operation cracked

BELLE GLADE—A city woman was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail Monday and charged with aiding and conducting a lottery.

Everglades Place was arrested by Detective L.D. Grieve who was on foot patrol in the area about 5:30 p.m. Monday.

He recovered $30 and 100 tickets.

'It's contagious — right Doc?'

County approves transportation plan

The Palm Beach County Transportation Authority Citizens Advisory Board has approved a five-year roads plan for Palm Beach County.

The plan, which calls for various highway improvements, including eight lanes for widening of the main north-south artery.

The five-year plan, pending county commission approval, would be effective Oct. 1, the beginning of the next fiscal year. In the past, the engineering department simply made recommendations for road improvements for the coming year.

Frakes and Randy Whitfield, director of the Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO), told the advisory board the plan should handle upcoming traffic problems well into the future.

Irving Cure, director of CoTran, received board approval for an overall review of suggested route changes and fare structure by the Operations Committee. A report is expected by the next board meeting Sept. 6.

Currently, CoTran

operates a fleet of buses from Boca Raton to Jupiter-Tequesta and into the Glades. Fares now are 75 cents one way to any part of the county on various routes. Reduced fares for senior citizens, and the disabled are 35 cents. Cure suggests a return to a former policy which would charge for transfers, a revision of charter bus prices and a modest increase in fares.

Girl Scout-volunteer training session set

Palm Glades Girl Scout Council will hold for its new and experienced adult volunteers representing Palm Beach County, Clewiston and Moore Haven a Service Unit Team Training session on Saturday, August 17, 1985 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Palm Beach Airport Hilton, 150 Australian Avenue in West Palm Beach. Participants will learn or review the job of the Service Unit Team as a whole and jobs of its individual Service Unit Managers, Troop Organizers and Troop Consultants. Professional instructors will indicate how to do each job and where to learn the skills to help adult volunteers carry out the responsibilities of these vital positions in Girl Scouting. Service Unit Team members should register with Palm Glades (582-5362) by Wednesday, August 7, 1985.

The plight of rural counties

Back in 1969, believe it or not, there was a bill filed in the state legislature that would have combined Charlotte, Glades and Hendry County into one giant, 2,643 mile county, stretching from the Gulf of Mexico to Lake Okeechobee.

The consolidation move was quite strong in some of the larger counties.

One area daily newspaper editorialized that "the serious consideration being given to the proposal is surprising because it would be a disaster for many of the counties concerned and a crippling blow to efficient local government."

If the movement had succeeded, Hendry and Glades County residents would have lost their county seat and had to drive to Punta Gorda. It's hard to conceive of anything so extraordinary happening, but it was seriously debated at the time.

Looking back on 1969, one is tempted to think some of our government leaders took leave of their senses.

Another issue hotly debated that year was the possible annexation of Immokalee and the surrounding area to Hendry County.

That one failed too. More recently, there was discussion of setting up a state legislative district covering western Palm Beach County, Hendry, and Glades County.

Editorial

We liked that proposal. It would have enabled the Glades area to have direct representation in Tallahassee.

Currently, there is no one in either the State House or Senate from the south Lake Okeechobee area.

As a result, this area has been dependent on the vision, generosity, and judgement of our representatives and senators who are — let's face it — from some place else.

That's not to say that we haven't had some very good friends in high places. Sen. Phil Lewis, Sen. Harry Johnston and Rep. Bert Harris for instance.

The reality is, however, that district lines are not set in concrete. They are periodically adjusted.

The dream of a Glades district is one worth keeping alive.

Some day it may happen.

We must love God first

By DAVID T. EVANS
Taking it From the Top

Satan the accuser or the adversary according to the book of Job is a celestial inspector who is to bring to the attention of God the misdeeds of the people who live on earth. Apparently all men were bad with the exception of Job.

God asks Satan about Job. In the eyes of God Job is a righteous man or one who does the right things all the time.

Satan argues with God about the goodness of Job, saying that he is good because God has protected him. Satan wanted to test Job and make him fail to prove a point.

In the end Job is vindicated. Job trusted God and held fast in his trust.

Early in the ministry of Jesus he was tested by the Devil or the evil one. The place of testing took place in the wilderness after Jesus had fasted for 40 days.

The Devil or the personification of evil is the most subtle of all creatures. A brief look at the temptation of Jesus will give us an insight into what happens to many of us.

First, the Devil attacks Jesus at the point of his physical weakness. Jesus was hungry. The tempter said, "If you are the Son of God, command these stones to become bread."

The Devil seeks out our weaknesses and probes them first. If it is money, power, or food, he knows.

Second, the Devil tempted Jesus to doubt the power of God, saying, "If you are the Son of God throw yourself down." The Devil was tempting Jesus to prove that God was protecting him.

All the Devil wants us to do is to slightly doubt God and then he has an advantage over us.

Third, the Devil tempted Jesus with the offer of power over the world. The Devil controls the minds of men who want power.

The Devil also knew what Lord Acton in the 19th century wrote about power. He said, "Power tends to corrupt, and absolute power tends to corrupt absolutely."

Jesus defeated the Devil by disclosing the evil of sin-opposed to God. Jesus refused to put bread above the word of God. He also refused to be tempted to tempt God or worship anyone other than God.

These priorities are good guidelines for us in our life today or any other day. Put God and his word first and we too can defeat the evil one or the devil.

Jesus said to love God with all of our being and our neighbor as ourselves. He is saying put God first and all will be in the right order for a good life without temptations to evil.

Local WIFE chapter

Sydney Beck, National President of Women Involved in Farm Economics (WIFE) encouraged women from Hendry and western Palm Beach counties to get the word to urban areas about the stake they have in a healthy agricultural economy. Beck was successful in organizing the Everglades WIFE Chapter. Officers elected at the organizational meeting were Karen Spooner, president; Sandra Chamblee, vice president; Clark Wilkinson, recording secretary; Susie Orsenigo, corresponding secretary; and Audrey Andreis, treasurer.

The next meeting of the Everglades WIFE Chapter will be held Thursday, September 19, at 3:00 p.m. in the Beardsley Room of the John B. Boy Auditorium. All women with an interest in the economic prosperity of agriculture are invited to attend.

Glades Central wrestlers on the move

BY GENE ANTONIO

BELLE GLADE—Glades Central High School wrestlers are making some impressive moves as they show their skills across the country.

Wrestler Eric Lewis took home a medal from the Eastern Regionals held in Easton, Pennsylvania, recently.

Philip Farley won a key match at the University of Northern Iowa during a national tournament in which 43 states were represented. Lewis and Farley bring pride to wrestling coach Frank Lasagna. He notes, "As far as I know these are the first two Glades wrestlers to compete on a Florida All-star team."

Two other Glades wrestlers are taking their wrestling skills on the road this fall. John Hubbard and James Moore have been accepted at Huron College in South Dakota where they will wrestle for that school.

Lasagna, who is a graduate of Huron College, notes that although the two are not receiving scholarships as such the school will be doing whatever it can to help them financially.

Hubbard was the district and regional champion and conference champ. He was a state runner-up during his career at Glades Central. Moore was district and conference champ and a state qualifier at Glades.

Hubbard was two times state champ in free style and Moore was state runner-up in free style.

The two will be leaving for South Dakota later this month.

Eric Lewis has a few years before thinking of college. The 14-year-old enters the 10th grade this fall.

He entered competition in the free style category for juniors and seniors. He did well enough at the Broward County Community College competition that he was invited to compete with 15 and 16-year-olds in the Cadet All-Star team competition in Easton, Pa.

The young wrestler says he "never thought about wrestling much" last year.

Math teacher Graham Frost suggested he try out for wrestling. Coach Lasagna says, "We're real thankful."

Although Lewis "took a beating" when he first took to the mats, the story changed quickly and by mid-season he was "giving guys fits" as the 88-pounder grappled with guys in the 102-pound weight class.

At Easton Lewis pinned his first five opponents.

Philip Farley competed against wrestlers from throughout the country at an indoor football field. Wrestlers competed on 18 different mats at the Iowa dome.

He came out the winner in one out of his three matches. The senior has been wrestling for three years.

He started at 170 pounds and now wrestles at 147 pounds.

Before heading to Iowa, Farley spent a week in Orlando working out six hours a day with other Florida wrestlers in preparation for the national meet.

Lasagna notes that wrestling takes more than great strength. Successful wrestlers must be agile, flexible and intelligent.

Along with this they must have a great deal of discipline. Lasagna comments, "It takes real discipline for a high school athlete to maintain his weight, keep up with studies and put in the time for practice."

Training involves weight lifting, running and working to keep in shape. Wrestlers are encouraged to participate in other sports.

Lasagna worries that wrestling will lose ground in Florida as the two colleges which he programs contemplate dropping wrestling.

The coach notes that if this happens the high school wrestlers will leave the state to wrestle at colleges which offer scholarships in the sport.

Wrestling across the country suffered in recent years as more and more money was allocated to sports for females.

In addition, wrestling for the most part is not a money-maker for colleges. People just don't come out to see wrestling and television rarely airs wrestling matches.

The two wrestlers who traveled to Pennsylvania and Iowa had their way paid in part by the Delta Sorority, the local Elks Club and the Gents Club.

Lasagna notes that it is from matches like these that future Olympians are chosen.

Glades support team formed

An adult chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, called the "Glades Support Team", is now being formed, and will hold a kick-off at the Airport Port Park in Belle Glade, September 7.

All area junior and senior high school athletes, boys and girls, are encouraged to attend. Teams will be chosen, and will compete against each other in football, volleyball, basketball, and softball.

The adult chapter, the first in the Glades, will serve to unify all Glades athletes.

Guest speaker for the kick-off will be former Cleveland Brown quarterback, Mike Phipps. Phipps played in the National Football League for 17 years.

A free dinner will also be served following the competitions, which are scheduled to begin at 1:00 p.m.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a national organization with the purpose of presenting to athletes, coaches and parents, the challenge of receiving Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, then serving Him through athletics. Adult volunteers, as well as members are needed.

Contact Truman Hartzog, youth minister at the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade, at 996-5596, or Coach Don Thompson at 924-3556, for more information.

Fishing with Tennessee

Compliments of Tennessee's Pro Guide Service

This has been a week when Lake Okechobee really tests your patience. I've looked for fish several times and the places I've found them have been some unlikely spots.

Several small bass have been brought in weighing anywhere from one pound to two pounds. The only large bass I know of being caught was the 9 1/2 pounder that Karen Taube from Boca Raton and fishing with her husband Jim caught while filing the pepper grass and using a Barney spoon.

The specks are still biting real good, especially by Jones Pump House when the pumps are running. I've caught my share of them lately using an Ultra light rod and real and yellow/green jigs and red/green jigs.

The shellcrackers and bluegill are back on the beds and are being brought in on crickets and worms in limit catches.

We finally got the official point scores on the Terry Ford Trailmaster Tournament and they are as follows:

First: Kelly Newberry & Maurice Faridath, 364 points. Second: Bert Crowl & Ray Water, 340 points. Third: J.T. Adcock & Charlie Infinger, 327 points. Fourth: Steve Porter & Jim Fowler, 315 points. Fifth: Howard Klemen & Mike Korner, 307 points.

One of those lucky fishermen is subject to win the 150 hp Yamaha motor at our next tournament. However, I still have hopes for two local boys, Jimmy Shelton & Jimmy McMillan, who are still in the running with their 284 points. I urge everyone to put their support behind Johnny Jones, the Executive Director of the Florida Wildlife Federation. This is a group that is doing everything possible to stop the South Florida Water Management District from putting the storm off for a week, safe waters full of nitrogen boat and good luck fish'ing.

Decorative uses of ferns in Florida

Ferns, of which there are over 10,000 species, are nonflowering perennials which offer versatile usage in home and in the landscape. One of the most unusual ferns is the staghorn fern. It is an epiphyte or air plant which is normally found growing on the side of trees in its native habitat. The generic name Platycerium comes from the Greek word meaning "broad horn." These plants are grown for their attractive antler-like fronds (leaves). The plant bears 2 types of fronds: the sterile fronds which are flat, round and located at the base of the fern and the fertile fronds which are irregular, lobed and usually ascending from the plant. Spores appear as brownish masses on the tips of the antler-like fertile fronds. These spores will produce new plants when sown on moist, sterile peatmoss.

However, this is a slow method of reproduction and most new plants are obtained from suckers (Pups) which develop from the mother plants. The staghorn fern can be used to cast the spell of the tropics and add interest to a patio wall. In frostless areas, specimens thrive on palms trunks or on branches of woody trees.

The culture of the staghorn fern is not difficult except that the plant is sensitive to the lack of drainage, to low temperature, and to low humidity. These points of culture should receive special attention and a moist atmosphere and a warm temperature should be provided for the best development of the plant. Staghorns grow best in shaded areas and will not endure the Florida sun. The medium upon which they are growing should be allowed to dry slightly between waterings.

These plants are usually grown on a slab of pecky cypress, redwood or tree fern. They also can be grown in hanging baskets. Unless the material to which they are attached naturally has a porous and spongy surface, a bed of spanum moss should be placed on the wood before the plant is attached by

The nurses work closely with physicians and patients are referred to them primarily through physicians.

Anyone can call the VNA office and request their services. They will make one initial visit to determine need. After that a physician must be contacted before further visits.

The VNA is the only agency of its kind in the Glades. It allows patients to receive treatment at home rather than in a hospital or nursing home.

This amounts to considerable savings. In most cases Medicare, Medicaid and private insurance provide payment for VNA services. The cost for visits is based on the services provided. The fees are on a sliding scale and are adjusted according to ability to pay.

United Way, Community Chest and other community donations are used for those who need VNA but have no other way to pay for services.

But the VNA offers patients something which has nothing to do with money. VNA's Coleman calls it "humaneness."

Both Peters and Owens agree that the home setting is good for a patient's morale. Most are glad to be in their own home rather than a nursing home or a hospital.

Peters comments, "Sometime seeing one of our nurses walk in the door is the highlight of a patient's day."

ty tax revenues for housing in the Glades.

Last week Commissioner Ken Adams met in Belle Glade with local leaders and other commissioners to drum up support for his proposal.

The commissioner wanted $5 million to come directly to the Glades. To show his fellow lawmakers the need here he arranged a bus tour of the area.

The money will come in two phases. After the initial $2.5 million comes to the Glades an equal amount will follow at a later date, according to the commissioners' tentatively approved budget.

When Adams learned last week the federal money was not coming he fought hard to get the funds. He has said for some time the needs of the Glades have been forgotten for too long.

At last week's meeting in the Glades, Adams said a referendum for a $50 to $70 "beach bond" would not receive his support unless the $5-million came to the Glades.

He commented, "Not everybody benefits equally from the beach bond." He said, "I'll only support it if money comes to the Glades."

At last week's meeting in Belle Glade leaders from the three Glades cities expressed their needs to the commissioners.

Mayor Clarence Anthony of South Bay stressed the needs of the marina and access to the lake. Belle Glade City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang also stressed money for recreation and focused in on the need for soccer fields. Pahokee Mayor Duncan Padgett wants money for the lakefront.

All these recreation needs and other needs for the cities are secondary to the recognized need for housing which all at the meeting see as the first priority.

According to plans outlined by Allan Schnier, Director of Housing and Community Development for the county, the money will be "leveraged" in a variety of ways to get the most out of it.

A number of strategies for the revitalization are on the drawing boards. They include new construction and refurbishing housing for rentals and home ownership.

There are plans for working with local financial institutions, area developers and other possibilities to get the most housing out of the money.

The money itself can be used in a number of ways, such as using Community Development Block Grant regulations, federal funds, community sources and other means of getting the highest yield from the $5-million.

At the Glades meeting Adams said he felt sure he could get two fellow commissioners to go along with his plan. This week that prediction came true as the vote was 3-2 for the proposal. In addition to the $5-million, another $5-million was promised to come from next year's budget for future improvements.

Adams, in pleading the case of the Glades, said there is a direct relationship between the poor housing and health.

Inmates hope 'pumping iron' will help local kids

BY BRENDA BUNTING
 BELLE GLADE—Bench press that weight, squat lift a bar bell, then get a little advice on how to stay out of jail.
 That was the lesson given in a demonstration given by G.C.I. inmates last week for participants of Belle Glade's Summer Recreation Program.
 The event was in the Glades Central High School gymnasium. Following the demonstration, a competition was held between the inmates, one of their correctional officers and some of the summer recreation weightlifting students.

WORKING toward a better physique.

"We didn't bring any of the 'meanies' out here for this program," said G.C.I. Athletic Director Garry Fletcher. "These are minimum custody inmates. I chose them because they participate in the program every day."

The weightlifting program at G.C.I. is well attended by the inmates, according to Fletcher. "G.C.I. has approximately 800 inmates, I'd say almost half of them participate, some of them seven days a week," he said.

The program has produced some winners, Fletcher said. One of the participants, Burlington Blye, won the Classic recently and came in seventh in body building in April at competition at Santalucas High School.

One of the competitors, Willie Raines, is a former Philadelphia Eagle football player. Raines was a crowd pleaser at the competition, bench pressing the heaviest weight.

He bench pressed 415 pounds. His coach said he is capable of lifting a lot more. Raines himself weighs 305 pounds and seemed to have no problem lifting the 415 pound weights.

Lathan Hightower, a member of the City of Belle Glade's Recreation Program, had his own cheering section in the form of fellow weightlifting students.

Hightower graduated from Glades Central and is attending Florida State University on a scholarship. He is in the summer program to keep in shape during the off season.

Hightower squat lifted 315 pounds and also participated in the deadlift weight competition.

The other two G.C.I. participants were Charles Brown and Rudy Hutchins. Correctional Officer Lonny Manor also participated.

Hutchins squat lifted 480 pounds during the competition. He weighs 173 pounds. He sipped on a honey mixture before each lift to give him energy.

The deadlift "separates the men from the boys," Fletcher told the crowd. Hutchins deadlifted 405 pounds.

The final deadweight lifted was 550 pounds, with Blye, Hightower and Raines each deadlifting that weight.

Hometown recipes from hometown folks

Recipes from area coaches

Dad's Favorite Chicken (Mom's Famous Chicken)

Pahokee football coach Don Thompson helps his wife out when this recipe is in the making. Thompson says this recipe is not only his favorite, but that his sons, Pell and Blaze, consider it their favorite, too. Thompson says this dish takes advanced planning and is great for birthdays or any kind of celebration.

Ingredients

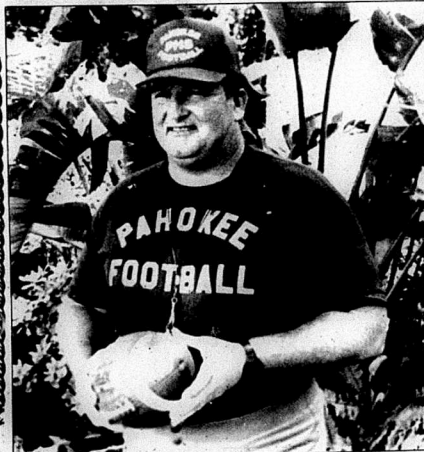

6 whole chicken breasts, halved and deboned
2 cups sour cream
¼ cup lemon juice
4 teaspoons Worcestershire Sauce
4 teaspoons celery salt

2 teaspoons paprika
4 cloves garlic
4 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups bread crumbs

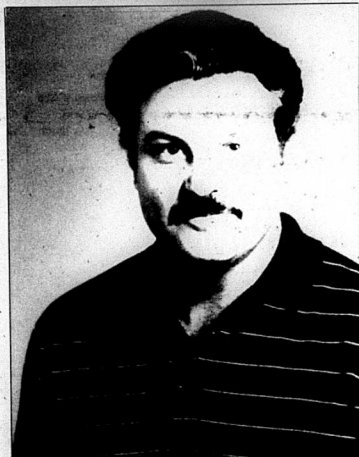

Combine above ingredients in a large plastic bowl. Marinate (covered) overnight in the refrigerator. This is essential for moist, delicate meat. Then remove breasts and roll in bread crumbs.

Prepare baking dish by melting 1 stick of butter in it. Place breasts in dish and bake one hour at 325 degrees.

JAY SEIDER

Coca-Cola Pie

This unique dessert is the favorite recipe of Jay Seider, a track coach at Glades Central High School in Belle Glade. His wife fixes this dish, which is also a favorite dessert, among people in the community. The icing is a major factor in giving this pie just the right touches. (Diet Coke can be used if a Coke substitute is needed.) The pie must be iced while it's hot.

Ingredients

2 eggs
2 cups flour
2 cups sugar
2 sticks oleo
2 tablespoons cocoa
1½ cup sour milk

1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
1½ miniature marshmallows
1 cup Coca-Cola
1 teaspoon soda

Bring oleo, cocoa, and coke to a boiling point. Pour this over sugar and flour mixture and mix well.

Add milk, soda, eggs, vanilla, and salt. Stir in marshmallows. Pour batter into a greased oblong pan and bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes.

Icing

1 stick oleo
2 tablespoons cocoa
6 tablespoons Coca-Cola

1 package powdered sugar
1 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Chicken Italiano (with veggies)

This recipe is a family favorite of the Frank Lasagna clan. Lasagna is going into his third year of coaching wrestling at Glades Central High School. Lasagna says he's in charge of buying the vegetables for this recipe and also oversees his wife when she fixes this dish.

Ingredients

2½-3 pound frying chicken, either whole or in pieces
1 whole zucchini, diced

1 large yellow onion, diced
1 stalk celery, diced
Fresh mushrooms
2 whole tomatoes, fresh or stewed

Chicken coating

Seasoning salt
All Italian spice

Pepper
Pancake flour

Mix together the ingredients for the chicken coating and roll chicken in it. Brown chicken in light oil. Remove chicken and add one tablespoon butter. Add vegetables and sautee until juicy. Pour juice from the vegetables over the browned chicken and bake chicken at 250 degrees for one hour. Serve with vegetables.
